

Joe Inferno DJ - Producer

Joe Inferno, AKA Ottomix barely needs any introduction. The man behind some of the most inspiring and successful techno records, started producing in 1990 and released worldwide hits like "Techno Church", "Music of the 90's (the end of techno?)", "Tribal Church" and the infamous "Hysteria".

His music quickly became an inspiration for many artists, that openly declared having been enlightened by the use of simple yet very effective song structures and sounds.

Joe Inferno is a real icon in the early-techno scene and has played for over 20 years, bringing his music and DJing skills to many countries around the world. Joe has been present at the "Ground Zero Festival" 2006, 2007 and 2008, "15 Years of Nightmare" and many more.
